DEATH TRAP is the label pinned on these power lines on Benson Ave. at the eastern approach to the runway of Cable Airport. Above, a small plane prepares to land, being careful to keep above the utility lines. Two planes in the last three years have flown into the lines. Officials of Cable Airport have been attempting to get the lines rerouted or buried in the interest of aviation safety.

So. Cal. Edison Says Cost Would Exceed $10,000

A possible 'death trap' exists on the eastern edge of Cable Airport in the form of power lines along Benson Ave.

For several years, Dewey Cable, owner-manager of the private field located just west of Benson at 13th St., has been attempting to have the lines relocated or buried.

Cable has corresponded with the Southern California Edison Co., through its Los Angeles office, seeking the power line move. A year and a half ago, he was advised that the cost to move the lines would be $61,000. Three weeks ago, a call from So. Cal. Edison's James Bethel advised Cable that the cost would be ONLY $10,500 for the 600 feet of lines.

"Quite a differece in cost estimates," Cable exclaimed, 'but the $10,500 is still sky high."

Since the opening of the airport about 15 years ago, three accidents of planes hitting the lines as they approached the field have occurred. Two of the accidents happened within the past three years.

"Fortunately," Cable said, "there have been no deaths, however in speaking with aviation experts, it seems the odds are staggering that a fatal accident will likely occur at any moment."

Cable has also been in contact with Wallace Robbins director of aviation for San Bernardino County, who agrees that the power lines are indeed a death trap. In the interest of safe aviation, Robbins also has been in touch with the So. Cal. Edison Co. about relocating or installing the lines underground.

"In the interests of the general public's safety", Robbins said, "it is imperative that the approach to the Cable Airport be cleared of the hazard created by the power company poles and wires in the westerly approach. This airport is supported by private capital and there are no government monies available to aid Mr. Cable in removing these hazards. The County Aviation Director's office has stated in the past and continues to label these poles and wires a hazard and urgently requests something be done in the near future."

"Someone is likely to get killed with these lines as they are along Benson," the airport owner stated. "We all know that aviation is here to stay and the traffic is picking up every year. We must be safety-minded and certainly expect So. Cal. Edison to feel the same way."

Cable said that the lines could be rerouted over a rock pile east of Benson to take them out of the approach area.

He referred to a similar circumstance at Yucca Valley where another pritate airport attempted to have lines moved by a different utility company.

"They had 750 feet to move," Cable said, "and were told the cost would be about $1000. This is only one-tenth the cost that we were quoted by our utility company.

'Nobody will deny that we all benefit from public utilities, but certainly some satisfactory arrangement can be made to save lives."

"The existence of the 'death trap' is purely an accident of circumstances," Cable said, "and our problem is not in placing blame nor finding fault with the wires, but solely a problem of having them removed before someone is killed."

"This is an unhappy situation", he stated, "and we feel that Southern California Edison can and should help to solve this problem."

Council Continues Rezoning In Spite Of Water Warnings

The Upland City Council continued its record setting pace of rezoning land at Tuesday night's meeting in spite of warnings by City Manager Elwin Alder and City Attorney Henry Busch of a possible pending water shortage.

Alder repeated his warning of a few weeks ago that Upland is facing a problem of a water shortage in supplying new developments.

'As people sell their citrus lands to developers," Alder said, "we are unable to secure their water stock to serve those areas. We think people who sell their land for residential development should make the water stock available, but so far we have been unsuccessful in getting the shares."

City Attorney Busch advised the council to "take a long look at rezoning from agriculture to residential unless the water is available."

Mike Kelber of Ontario, present in the audience seeking a zone change, said he was prepared to turn over to the city some 30 shares of San Antonio Water stock and 20 shares of Western.

"People so often refuse to sell their water shares", Kelber said, "because they wish to retain it for other property."

At Tuesday's meeting, the council approved the recommendations of the Planning Commission and rezoned more than 38 acres from agriculture to residential and approved the second reading of an ordinance which incorporated zone changes on another 50 acres.

Rezoned following public hearings Tuesday night were: 20 acres on the north side of Arrow Hwy. midway between Mountain and Benson Aves; 10 acres at the northwest corner of San Antonio and 14th St.; 5 acres on the north side of 17th St. east of San Antonio; and 3.4 acres south of Foothill Blvd. and east of Mountain Ave.

The council also approved a rezoning from residential to commercial for 2.7 acres located east of Campus and north of Foothill for an expansion of Skycrest Ford facilities. A Conditional Use Permit was granted to establish a service station within a C-3 zone at the southeast corner of Campus and 9th St.

The area between 16th and 19th Sts. is presently being studied for possible rezoning from agriculture to residential and the council discussed the possibility of eventually making a study of the land north of 19th St

Street Committee Report

Councilman Phil Holden reported on a meeting of the Street Committee regarding basic standards of street widths. The committee recommended that the standard remain at 66 feet although in certain areas the width may be reduced at the discretion of the council.

At the previous council meeting in December, the city fathers were to invoke the 1911 Act in a measure to force Harold J. Daughters, 1496 N. Euclid, to install a sidewalk along 15th St. on the side of his property. Daughters was present at the Tuesday meeting offering a compromise to install the sidewalk if the city would install the curb and finish the street width.

Daughters read some sections of the 1911 Act to the council and said he believed the city was technically wrong in proceeding with the 1911 Act. The council back-tracked and referred action to the City Manager and City Attorney for study.

Resolution Adopted

A Resolution was adopted authorizing and directing the acquisition of property for street purposes. The property involves Vernon Dr., east of San Antonio and north of the PE tracks. The street had never been formally dedicated and had been used for street purposes for more than 30 years so the City Attorney was directed to begin condemnation proceedings to acquire the land for street purposes.

Busch was also directed to write a letter to the County Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission requesting the area north of 16th St and west of Mountain Ave., presently zoned M-1 by the county, be rezoned to residential to coincide with surrounding land within the City of Upland.

Roaring 20's Party Held New Year's

"23 Skidoo!" was the theme of a Roaring 20's party hosted New Year's Eve by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walline, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ferguson, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kalil at Mr. Kalil's warehouse in Ontario.

Approximately 100 guests dressed in costumes of the flapper era attended the festive New Year's celebration and danced to recorded music provided by Mr. Leslie Boyd of Ontario, who has an extensive collection of records of that time.

The warehouse was decorated in "speakeasy" style, complete with murals by Mrs. Walline, tables with checkered clothes, and a "free lunch" counter.

The traditional confetti, gay hats, noisemakers and serpentine contributed to the New Year's atmosphere at midnight.

Prizes for best costumes went to Mrs. Chester Haug of Upland and Mrs. Harlan Coyle of Claremont. Donald Adams III of Long Beach also won a prize for the 1922 model bathing suit, top hat and spats he wore to the party.

At midnight guests were served a buffet supper, consisting of turkey, ham, rolls, baked beans, salad and pecan tarts.

Woman's Club To Hear Of Ice Age

Mary Haldeman Armstrong presents a color film "Art in The Caves of The Ice Age" to the luncheon meeting of Upland Woman's Club, Tuesday, Jan. 9.

She was the first American, along with other French speleologists, to explore pre-historic sites and caves in southern France and Spain. There they discovered vast storehouses of early art, 40,000 years old.

Paintings, engraving on walls and on tiny fragments of bone and stone, sculpture in clay and stone. In 1957 and 1958 she visited and photographed the expedition of Norbert Casteret in the high Pyrenees of southwestern France.

With an A.B. from Mount Holyoke and an A.M from Columbia University, Miss Armstrong continued her art studies in The Cape School of Art in Provincetown-On-Cape-Cod, Mass.; and her speech training in graduate courses at the University of Southern California, The Speech Institute and Fellowship in London; and the Central School of Speech, Oxford, England. At present she teaches English at Chaffey High School.

Experienced in lecturing, Miss Armstrong discusses an absolutely new topic simply, humorously and charmingly. She portrays present-day activities in man's ancient environment, and compares these unique art achievements with Indian cave drawings in southwestern United States.

TO OUR FRIENDS:

Effective January 1, 1962, The First National Bank of Ontario will pay 4% on savings certificates issued for one year or more, and 3½% on savings accounts with daily interest compounded four times a year. This is the highest stated bank savings interest rate being offered in our trade area, and to the best of our knowledge, the highest bank interest rate being offered in San Bernardino County.

One of the advantages of being a local, home-owned bank, is that we can be flexible and we act independently, as we have on our savings interest rate.

The new rate shows how much we value our present savings business and how much we want new savings deposits. We are looking for a very much increased loan demand in 1962. The new savings money that we take in will be loaned to local people.

If you have a savings account at our bank, increase your balance and get more advantage from our new interest rate. If you are not one of our savings depositors now, deposit some of your money in our bank – the bank that really appreciates your business.

LA Youth Killed In Mt. Baldy Fall

A 16-year-old Los Angeles youth slipped on an icy slope at Mt. Baldy Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 26, and fell more than 1,000 feet to his death.

Michael Louis Bressler died from head injuries. He and two hiking companions, Richard Schuster, 17, of Monterey Park and Brian Milman, 17, of Los Angeles, apparently had hiked beyond signs reading: "Danger - No Travel Beyond this Point".

The boys were hiking near the top of the mountain east of the ski lift when Bressler and Schuster slipped on an icy slope and fell.

Schuster was able to stop his fall and suffered minor injuries, but Bressler slipped and fell more than 1,000 feet and over a cliff landing on the rocks below.

Milman remained on the ice above.

Schuster finally made his way to his falled companion and, unable to help with artificial respiration, made his way to the ski lift for aid. Milman proceeded down in another direction.

Bressler's body was removed from the mountain at 4 p.m. by the Search and Rescue Squad of the San Bernardino County Sheriff's office.

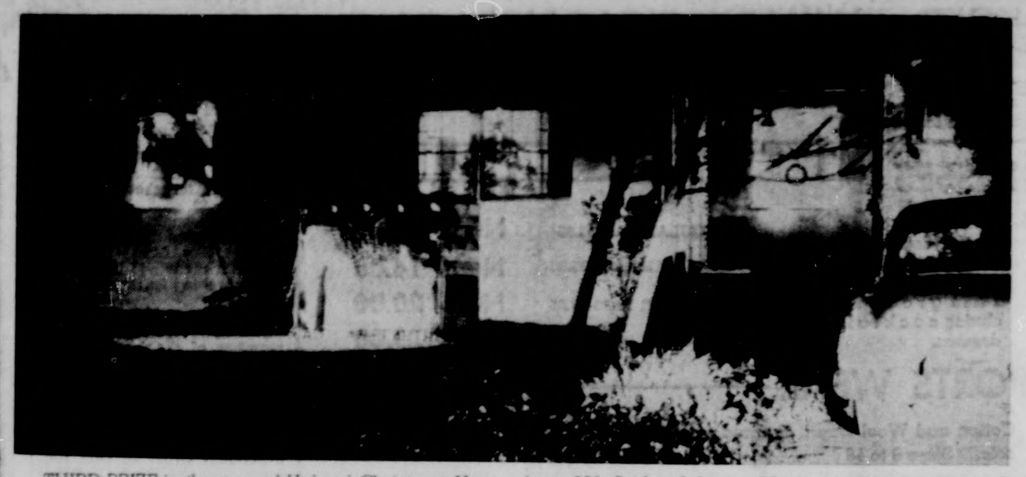

The lives of four hikers were claimed by the mountain's dangerous slopes last year.

Earlier this year a Montclair youth was rescured after a fall and his companion spent all night alone on the slope.

A 20-year-old man fell at Mt. Baldy on Dec. 21 and is still hospitalized. His early morning accident while hiking with several unidentified persons is still being investigated.

NEW GIRL IN TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, 836 N Tenth Ave., Upland, are the parents of a daughter, born Dec. 29 at the San Antonio Community Hospital.

THIRD PRIZE in the annual Upland Christmas Home Decorating Contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce was this home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carnahan, 351 Orchard Lane. Black and white pictures do not do proper justice to the beauty of a Christmas display such as this Nativity scene of the Carnahan's.

NEW CUCAMONGA GIRL

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wade, 8626 Comet St., Cucamonga, on Dec. 29 at the San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland.

Mayfair Burglarized

Mayfair Market in Cucamonga was burglarized over the New Year's weekend of approximately $900 in loose and roll change, about $800 worth of S&H trading stamps, a check protector and a quantity of blank money orders.

Method of entry by the burglars is unknown, according to the West End Sheriff's office, but the persons may have hidden inside the store on New Year's Eve when it was locked up.

The burglars moved a safe into a storage room and smashed it open to get the contents.

The intruders also dined on some of the merchandise, the Sheriff's office reported.

The investigation is still under way by Det. Victor Hagstrom of the Ontario office and Det. Vern Colvin of the San Bernardino Sheriff's Identification Bureau.

Camp Fire Girls Prepare For Annual Sale of Nuts

Mrs. David Drake of La Puente has been appointed chairman of the annual canned nut sale of Camp Fire Girls, Mt. San Antonio Council, by Melvin I. Hull, president. The council-wide sale will begin Jan. 12 and continue through Jan. 29.

Mrs. Drake is a member of the council board of directors, past chairman of the La Puente District Committee, and last spring was chairman for a highly successful pancake day in La Puente.

Mrs. Drake announced the selection of a new package to be introduced in this year's sale. It will contain three cans of nuts (mixed nuts, Spanish peanuts, Virginia peanuts).

This will be the first time that Camp Fire Girls have had a lithographed can of their own which cannot be duplicated in the stores. The supplier, has packaged the three cans into a cardboard bus depicting girls on their way to camp.

A sizable portion of the peanut sales profits is used yearly for camp development.

Thirteen thousand dollars of peanut sales profits was used in 1961 to subsidize the year round operation of the council. "Although United Funds have been most generous to Camp Fire Girls with funds made available through community solicitation a sizable operating deficit has to be made up yearly through the nut sales," Mrs. Drake said.

During 1961 a sum of $5,000 of sales profits was used toward capital improvements at the council owned Camp Nawakwa in the San Bernardino Mountains. Another $4,600 was distributed to groups for their projects.

Mr Hull has stressed the urgency of a successful sale for two reasons: the continuance of service to leaders and the additional buildings needed at Camp Nawakwa to be ready to meet the increased anticipated load for the 1962 season.

Members of Mrs. Drake's committee are the following district sales chairman: Chaffey, Mrs. George Graue of Upland; Dalton, Mrs. C. A. Vincent of Glendora; Edgewood, Mrs. Robert E. Boyles of Covina; La Puente, Mrs. C. H. Storing; Palomares, Mrs. Harold Blum of Pomona; Ramona, Mrs. C. F. Randall of West Covina; Vejar, Mrs. Milo Tuschen of Pomona.

Street sales will be coordinated by Mrs. James Laughlin of Montclair; Mrs. Bernard F. Wilson, Glendora; Mrs. Fred Berg, Covina; Mrs. Ray Banks, La Puente; Mrs. Ronald White, Pomona; Mrs. Joe Burton, West Covina.

Some 6,000 members will participate in the sale.

AGC To Purge Corrupt Practices

In an effort to purge the organization of any member that might be guilty of corrupt trade practices, Associated General Contractors of America has officially granted investigative powers to its standing committee on ethics and trade practices.

John L. Connolly, president of the Southern California chapter of AGC, said yesterday that the committee will now be empowered to initiate its own investigation whenever a member of the organization pleads guilty or is found guilty of corrupt construction practices.

Nationally, AGC has more than 7,300 members who account for nearly 80% of all contract construction in the United States each year.

Crippled Child Society Cited By State Group

The Crippled Children's Society of San Bernardino County has been cited by its state parent organization for growth in its programs of services to the physically handicapped.

In a letter to Arthur W. Walker, president of the local society, Mrs. Esther Elder Smith, executive director of the California Society for Crippled Children and Adults, congratulated the San Bernardino County group for playing an important part in making 1961 "the biggest year in the history of the Easter Seal organization in California".

"We compliment the Crippled Children's Society of San Bernardino County for the expansion of its service programs during the past year," Mrs. Smith wrote. "Your organization's sensitivity to the growing need for rehabilitation services is commendable."

'Hidden Assets' Back County Capital Debt

San Bernardino County's capital debt portion represented in the first 11 months' building permits of $127,312,014 is protected by "hidden assets" of $125,898,000

This latter figure is the estimated total of United States Savings Bonds held in this county, according to the national average of about $250 for each resident.

Sometimes called 'hidden assets" because they are rarely totalled in economic surveys, nevertheless, the large Savings Bonds holdings which have accumulated during the past 20 years are economic cushions in every community.

County Savings Bonds Chairman U. Sidney Bateman described the holdings as "stored purchasing power."

SC Aliens To Report

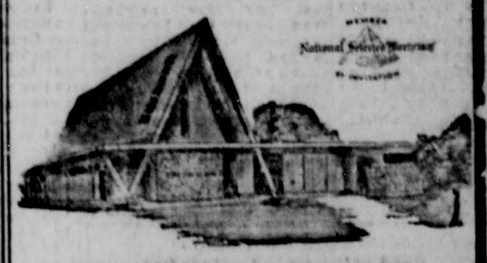

George K. Rosenberg, District Director of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, estimated today that 375,000 aliens residing in Southern California will report their address during January 1962 under the Alien Address Report Program.

Mr. Rosenberg said that noncitizens are required to file the Special Address Report Card each January.

In addition, aliens who are temporarily out of the United States during January must report their address to the Service within 10 days after their return.

The District Director said that Address Report Cards will be available at the Immigration Service office at 510 South Vermont Avenue, Los Angeles, California, and also at all local United States Post Offices.

It was pleasant to see Ann and Doc Kellogg down from Palmdale. They were spending the Christmas holidays with daughter, Wanda and family in Ontario. 'Doc' will be remembered as one of our favorite rangers. He and his wife, the talented Ann, still look so young that it is hard to realize they have been away from Baldy for almost 10 years.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Taxes

Upland Rotarians heard a talk last week on Federal Income tax rules, changes in the state income tax laws, and misconceptions about taxes.

Speaker for the noon luncheon meeting was Robert Thrall, Upland accountant, and member of the club.

Thrall passed out a "Schedule of Deductions" and ran through the various classes of contributions, interest, casualty losses, taxes, child care, medical expenses, and miscellaneous items most affecting men in the "Rotarian brackets and categories."

He described the "on and off" method of alternating income tax returns by taking a standard deduction one year and then itemizing deductions the next. This allows for "grouping" of expenses in alternate years, he said.

Misconceptions described by Thrall included Three:

1) people do not go into a different tax bracket when they make additional money. Only the additional money goes into a different bracket. All previous income stays exactly the same.

2. Re-investment of proceeds of the sale of property are non-taxable in only three categories: a personal residence if re-invested within one year, condemnation of property or sale because of the threat of condemnation which are involuntary conversions, and actually trading property.

3. Repossession.

Thrall described a knotty problem in the area of a land owner who sold his property for a small down payment, say $5000. Then he received the interest immediately for the future 10 years, say $50,000. Principal payments were to start after the 10 years.

The man was taxed on the $55,000 for ordinary income.

At the end of the period, he came into possession of the land because the buyer would not pay and did not want the land.

Under this circumstance, the original owner of the land would have to pay capital gains tax on the total worth of the land, say $100,000 fair market value, or a gain of $25,000.

He cautioned citrus owners from entering into similar types of sales for their property without consulting someone who knows about tax laws.

NEW TWINS at Upland High School are these four-door Falcon sedans for the driver education department.

Inside car to the left is Manuel Meza; standing is Floyd Johnson and inside the car on the right is Fred Taunton, all driving instructors at UHS.

Both of the white cars, equipped with the latest in accessories and dual controls, are made available to Upland High by Skycrest Ford through the dealer loan-lease system.
